TEST METHODS:

Thickness: ASTM D 5736 @ 0.002 psi      CLO: ISO11092:2014

Performance Features

Highest level of thermal efficiency per weight (Proprietary LRTD (Long Range Thermal Dynamics) Technology)

Proprietary No Micro-Fiber (NMF) Technology for sustainability

Resistance to cold air and warm air retention

Light weight / Water repellent / Moisture Management

Warm even when damp

Easy maintenance (Home wash, etc)

Construction Guidelines

HEAT-MX Insulation products may be free-hung in edge-stabilized construction not exceeding 22"x22". Quilting and/or adhesive lamination methods may be used for as needed. In order to provide designed performance of the products, avoid small quilted patterns below 1.5" x 1.5" (3.8cm x 3.8cm). For any use of the products outside conventional construction methods and/or in combination of unusual material practiced and recognized by the industry in large, please consult the sales representative of HEAT-MX(TM) Products in your region

Care Instructions

Garments made with HEAT-MX insulation material may be home laundered and/or dry cleaned. Follow care instructions provided by the manufacturer or brand of the finished goods.
